Government Glass Shows 92: Close to 100 Down Town

With the mercury in the government thermometer at the Shuck & Bates store at Lincoln Way, Upham Place and W. Everett street, standing at 92 at 1 o'clock this afternoon, and slowly seeking higher elevation in the little glass tube, today became an impressive refutation of the prophecies, made during the winter, that 1928 would be a year without a summer.

It also became the hottest day of the year, thus far, and observers of the official instruments predicted at noon that the highest point of the day would probably be reached about 2 or 3 o'clock, with a possible maximum temperature of 94 or better.

In the streets in the business section of the city, the thermometers showed higher temperatures than that recorded by the government instrument, due of course to the reflection of the heat from the concrete sidewalks and brick pavements. The big heat-recorder in front of Thos. Sullivan's drug store, 115 First street, recorded 98 at noon and the genial pill-dispenser mopped his brow and wondered whether he had acted wisely when he purchased the instrument.

Official records for the past week are as follows:

	High	Low
June 28	78	59
June 29	77	57
July 1	86	68
July 2	90	68
July 3	90	60
July 4	88	62
July 5	84	60
July 6	88	74

Some relief is promised by the Chicago weather bureau, its official forecast for northern Illinois being "probable thunder storms and slightly cooler Sunday."

CHICAGO SWELTERS. Chicago, July 7.—(AP)—Beaches and country roads were thronged today with the fugitives from the sultry heat, temperatures over the middle west yesterday dallied about the century mark, and more clear, hot weather of the 100 degree calibre was looked for today.

The mercury hovered about 75 degrees here most of last night, and on the upward swing had reached 82 at 9 a. m.

At noon the 90 degrees level was reached, and the skies were partly overcast, presaging a return of the thunder storms that became habitual a week ago.

94 IN PERU. Peru, Ill., July 7.—(AP)—The official thermometer touched 94 at 11 o'clock this morning.

MORRIS ELLER TO BE CALLED BY GRAND JURY

Prosecutor Grants Demands of Political Boss in Chicago

Chicago, July 7.—(AP)—Morris Eller will be given the hearing he demands, Prosecutor David D. Stansbury replied today to the letter in which the political boss challenged the legality of the subpoenas issued by the special grand jury investigating election disturbances.

Eller wrote Stansbury and the grand jury foreman yesterday declaring witnesses subpoenaed by the jury had informed him the prosecutors were anxious to indict him.

"Indicted for what?" he asked. "You certainly do not claim that I knew or had anything to do with the murder of Octavius Granady," Granady, a negro, was Eller's opponent in the April primary. Several of Eller's henchmen have been indicted for election terrorist tactics.

"Mr. Eller needn't worry, we'll be glad to accommodate him," Stansbury said today. He added that the jury was no more anxious to indict Eller than anyone else, and that charges of illegal subpoenas were "bunk."

The time for Mr. Eller's hearing probably will be set Monday when the grand jury reconvenes.

Veteran Banker and Farmer Killed When Mule Kicks Him

Brighton, Ill., July 7.—(AP)—George W. Hilliard, 88, wealthy Macoupin county farmer and president of the First National Bank of Brighton, was fatally injured by the kick of a mule at his farm residence near here early today. Hilliard, an active business man despite his advanced age, went to his barn at 6:30 a. m. and received the injury in passing the mule's stall. His injuries were thought not serious, but he died before 9 o'clock.

Besides his widow, Hilliard is survived by two sons and two daughters, F. W. Hilliard and Mrs. Elvin Gates, both of St. Louis, and Charles and Leah of Brighton.

Hilliard was a pioneer, having been born on the farm on which he lived all his life. He had extensive land holdings in this vicinity.

SHOT A MONKEY BUT JURY LETS FELIX GO FREE

But Why Not?—Look What Remus Got Away With

Hicksville, N. Y., July 7.—(AP)—A butler who shot and killed a monkey today stood acquitted of a charge of cruelty to animals.

Felix Solomon, who was employed at the Brookville summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Vermer Reed of Denver, killed the animal on June 28 after it had escaped from the neighboring estate of N. J. Hess, New York real estate man. Hess was defended by former Governor Nathan I. Miller and his trial attracted a crowded court room of Long Island society folk from the oyster bay district.

Fearful for Children
Solomon contended he killed the monkey when he saw it creeping up on two of the Reed children. The monkey, he said, was showing its teeth and he feared it would bite the children. Hess insisted the monkey was harmless. Mr. Miller argued that legally monkeys were wild animals and Solomon had a right to kill.

Miller read newspaper stories to the jury about the death of King Alexander of Greece from a monkey's bite.

HOT IN HERRIN
Herrin, Ill., July 7.—(AP)—Yesterday was the hottest day here in more than a decade with a maximum temperature of 102 recorded on an unofficial thermometer kept in the same place for many years. Workers on the new hard road near here have been forced to quit work.

Mrs. A. F. Moore returned Friday from Green Castle, Indiana, where she had been for the past two weeks. Mrs. Moore was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. R. C. Henderson, who has been visiting in Washington, D. C. for several months.

HOOVER RESIGNS AS CABINET MEMBER; TO VISIT COOLIDGE

Will Stop at Cedar Island Lodge on Trip West Next Week

Superior, Wis., July 8.—(AP)—The resignation of Secretary Herbert Hoover of the Commerce Department from the cabinet effective at President Coolidge's pleasure was received at the summer white house today.

In a telegram dispatched to the commerce secretary today, President Coolidge invited him to stop off as his guest at Cedar Island Lodge on his way next week to the his home in Palo Alto, Calif. Mr. Coolidge extended his invitation following receipt of a letter from Mr. Hoover in which the latter indicated that he would appreciate an opportunity to call on the chief executive on his way west.

Secretary Hoover's resignation arrived in the mail this morning under separate cover as yet has not been accepted by Mr. Coolidge. It is expected that the chief executive will follow the same procedure in the cases of Secretary Hoover and Secretary Work which he followed in previous times, namely, accepting their resignations only when he will have decided on their successors.

President Takes Drive
President Coolidge received the news of Secretary Hoover's resignation, and extended his invitation to him after an unexpected drive in the country, on which he took Mrs. Coolidge and their son, John.

With no warning, Mr. Coolidge suddenly ordered his automobile for the drive, apparently tired of spending all days within the limits of the summer white house.

Leaving shortly before 9 o'clock, he spent about two hours driving, reaching the divide between the Mississippi river and the Great Lakes, the old portage from the head waters of the Brule and St. Croix Lake. No stops were made on the trip.

In his letter to Mr. Coolidge it is understood that Secretary Hoover said that he tendered his resignation since he feared that his political activities in connection with the forthcoming electoral campaign might embarrass the administration.

Should Mr. Coolidge, however, desire his retention in the cabinet, the commerce secretary was reported as willing to continue attending to his present cabinet duties.

Although White House officials have no definite information as to when Secretary Hoover will leave Washington on his way west, the Republican nominee is looked for here in little over one week.

Seek Assailant of Campers in Colorado Park
Illinois Educator and His Son Shot While They Slept

Estes Park, Colo., July 7.—(AP)—A posse of forest rangers today continued to search the heavily wooded Tuxedo Park forests near here for trace of the mysterious assailant who shot and seriously wounded Dr. George N. Sleight, 59, Illinois educator, and his son, Virgil, 25, of Clinton, N. Y., while they slept in a tent yesterday. The search for the attacker lasted long into last night and was resumed with renewed vigor today but no clue to his identity had been uncovered.

At a hospital here, the two victims were reported resting easily although the condition of the elder Sleight was described as very serious. Physicians who attended the wounded men said the first x-ray examination had failed to disclose the bullets but further examinations were to be made. Both men were shot twice in the head.

Looked Like a Tourist.
The description of the attacker given by the wounded men was that he wore a checkered jacket and khaki trousers. Officers believed that this garb would indicate the shooting might have been done by a tourist.

The Sleights pitched their tent in an isolated section of the park several days ago.

They had come to study glacial actions in Glacier Basin, west of Estes Park, and were to have continued yesterday with Dr. Margaret Fuller Boos, park naturalist who formerly was professor in the department of theology at Northwestern University. The elder Sleight is a member of the faculty of Lake Forest College in Illinois.

Investigation is in charge of Sheriff Fred W. Harris of Ft. Collins, superintendent Roger W. Toll of Rocky Mountain National Park and his assistant, Thomas J. Allen. Some officials are inclined to believe the shooting was intended as a prank and that the shots were fired by a boy.

BIRGER CREDITORS ACT

ITALIAN FLIERS WERE IN AIR 59 HOURS IS CLAIM

Italian Record Equalled Today by German Fliers

Dessau, Germany, July 7.—(AP)—Johann Ristetz and Hans Zimmermann, German pilots seeking to establish a duration flight record, equalled the Italian record of 59 hours and 34 minutes at 2:42 o'clock this afternoon.

They planned to fly five or six hours longer.

WERE UP 59 HOURS
Rio Janeiro, July 7.—(AP)—Captain Arturo Ferrarin and Major Carlo P. Del Prete in breaking the world's distance flight record bettered their own duration flight record by 25 minutes, Bernardo Attolico, Italian ambassador to Brazil, announced today after a telegraphic interview with the airmen that they had been in the air for 59 hours before they landed at Touro, 50 miles north of Natal and 4,377 miles from Montecelio Field, Rome.

They hold the duration flight record at 58 hours, 34 minutes and 25 1/4 seconds. It is unlikely that they will be credited with the 59 hour record since the previous mark must be bettered by at least one hour to be recognized.

Fog, the ambassador said, blocked their attempt to reach Rio Janeiro, which they would have made without difficulty in the elapsed time. Instead of landing at Point Genabau, 10 miles north of Natal, as reported at first, they flew so low as to make it appear that they had touched the ground. Then they continued on in the fog and darkness searching for a suitable landing place for their large plane. Finally they came down on the wet and sandy beach at Touro damaging the wheels of their plane. The men were not hurt.

CHICAGO COURTS TIGHTEN UP ON STAGE DIVORCES

Two Suits for Divorce Were Dismissed by Circuit Judges

Chicago, July 7.—(AP)—Chicago is not to become a Rialto Rens if Circuit Judges Lynch and Sabath can prevent it.

In the courtroom of each of these judges yesterday an actress' suit for divorce was dismissed. The petition of Miss Audrey Maple of "Sunny Days" was ruled out for want of equity when Judge Lynch found that the actress was not a legal resident of Illinois.

A Legal Resident?
Mrs. Helen Cressman Carr's petition to divorce Alexander Carr, who was featured in the "Potash and Perlmutter" plays, was dismissed on her own motion. Judge Sabath had withheld action in the case pending an investigation to learn if Mrs. Carr was entitled by a year's residence in Illinois to sue here.

Miss Maple's action against George Griffiths, New York broker, charged desertion. Mrs. Carr, formerly a film and bathing beauty, asked a divorce on the same grounds.

In the past several months Chicago courts have issued divorce decrees to several well known actresses, Fanny Brice and Helen Menken being two of the better known names that have appeared on the court records.

Jeanne Hagles, star of "Rain" and "Her Cardboard Lover," has a action pending now against Ted Coy, the one time famous Yale football star, whom she accuses of cruelty.

Judge Sabath said there had been criticism—"perhaps just criticism"—that Chicago was becoming a popular place for actors and actresses seeking divorces. In some cases, he said, the legal residence of parties involved has been questioned. He said that the courts were making every effort to satisfy themselves of the plaintiff's right to sue before any decrees were entered.

JAMES W. GOOD IS TO MANAGE HOOVER IN WEST

TRANS-ATLANTIC PLANE CREW TO BOSTON MONDAY

Washington, July 7.—(AP)—James W. Good, of Chicago, was named western campaign manager for Herbert Hoover today.

Appointment of Good, who was one of Hoover's chief lieutenants in the pre-convention campaign, was announced by Chairman Work of the national committee.

Mr. Good is a former member of the house from Iowa, preceding the late Martin B. Madden as chairman of the appropriations committee. In 1924 he handled the western pre-convention fight for Coolidge. He is expected in Washington soon for a conference with Mr. Hoover and after which he plans to leave for Chicago to establish headquarters.

Mrs. Charles Fallstrom and her grandson, Charles Sykes, are visiting for several days at Aurora with former's daughter, Mrs. R. W. Sharp.

JOHN BYERS IN OPENING BOW AS C. OF C. PILOT

Invites Public to Visit Office and Offer Suggestions

John H. Byers, new secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and above all a politician and former newspaperman, is starting right on his new duties, which he assumed yesterday, with his "glad hand." Here it is just as he wrote it:

The rest room at the Chamber of Commerce will be open each Sunday during the summer months until 9 o'clock at night. The public is invited to use the rest room and make themselves at home.

Business men are invited to drop in anytime during the day and spend a little time talking about Dixon. The hours of the Chamber are from 9 o'clock until 6 o'clock and some one will be there to take care of the wants of the general public. Talk to the office force over the phone if you find you can't make a personal visit. Come in with your ideas and let the secretaries hear what you have to offer and in this manner the office can be brought closer to the people. It is surprising what can be done by an exchange of ideas. Keep in mind that Dixon has one of the best Chamber of Commerce organizations in Northern Illinois. Come in and help the organization make Dixon a bigger city.

BELIEVE AMUNDSEN AND CREW DIED IN RESCUE ATTEMPT

Famous Explorer 19 Days Overdue: Scant Hope Held Out

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, July 7.—(AP)—Roald Amundsen was 19 days overdue at Kings Bay today. All search for him and his five companions has been fruitless. They have been swallowed up as completely by the arctic sea have nine members of the crew of the Italia and scant hope is held that any of them will ever be found alive.

Captain Ravazzolini, flying a large Italian seaplane, searched the waters and islands off the Norway coast for traces of the Amundsen expedition without success. He flew from Tromsø, where Amundsen started on June 18, past Hammerfest, Landing at Hammerfest, the Italian airman questioned fishermen concerning the report that a fishing vessel had found the Amundsen's body. He found no one who knew of such a discovery.

Had High Blood Pressure
The Daily Express quoted an unnamed intimate friend of Lowenstein as saying the Belgian was subject to sudden heart attacks due to an abnormal blood pressure of more than 200 millimeters instead of the normal 120. The discovery of his color and 150. The discovery of his color and 150. The discovery of his color and 150.

The correspondent thought that Lowenstein would have been equally impossible for Lowenstein to have slipped away after the plane landed at Dunkirk without being observed.

All who knew Lowenstein insisted that he had no reason for committing suicide.

Mrs. Thomas Hiland Died in Rockford

Dixon friends this morning received word of the death of Mrs. Thomas Hiland at her home, 1632 Tenth Ave. Rockford, at 4:40 o'clock Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock and at the Methodist church in Steward at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. Hiland was the mother of Miss Tomina Hiland, a former teacher in the Loveland school in this city.

Born September 10, 1857, Mrs. Hiland came to this country with her parents when a young girl. She was married 44 years ago at Stewart to Thomas Hiland, where she had made her home until two years ago, when she went to Rockford.

Besides the husband, she is survived by two children, Mrs. Osborn Arne of Rochell, and Miss Tomina at home and three grandchildren, Ole Hanson, Creston; Charles Hanson, Ashton, and one in Norway. Two sons and one daughter preceded her in death.

Mrs. Hiland was a member of the Norwegian Danish Lutheran church. She bore her suffering uncomplainingly, making light of her affliction, and will be remembered by many for her kindness and cheerfulness.

J. I. CASE CO. TO TAKE OVER BIG ROCKFORD PLANT

Associated Press dispatches to The Telegraph today tell of another big step forward taken by the J. I. Case Thrashing Machine Co. of Racine, Wis., of which Col. W. B. Brinton of Dixon is a director and owner of the Grand Detour Plow Works in this city. The Case Company Friday consummated the purchase of the Emerson-Brantingham Co. of Rockford, an old and well known establishment with branches in over a dozen of the big cities of the United States, Canada and Europe. The amount involved in the transaction was not made public.

NO TRACE OF BODY OF LOWENSTEIN IS FOUND IN CHANNEL

Tests Indicate One Man Could Not Open Plane Door

London, July 7.—(AP)—Discussion of the mystery of Captain Alfred Lowenstein's death by a fall from his airplane into the sea went on apace today.

Efforts to find his body at the point where the crew of his plane and its other occupants assert he fell into the English channel through accidentally opening the exit door of the plane have been futile. The pilot and mechanic of the plane spent several hours cruising about the spot in a tug in a fruitless search.

Tests made at Le Bourget airfield, France, to determine whether it was possible to open the door of a plane in flight showed it was not easy to do so. Two mechanics using a plane similar to that from which Lowenstein disappeared with the motor running at full force found that the air pressure was so great that the combined strength of the two men was just sufficient to open the door wide enough to permit one of them to pass through it. Yet friends of Lowenstein maintain that he often opened the door of his plane to look out over the sea and the landscape.

Still Rumor Hoax
Rumors that the whole affair was a gigantic hoax were circulated in brokers' offices and other concerns interested in dealings of the stock exchanges of London, Paris, Berlin and Brussels. One suggestion was that Lowenstein never left Croydon. Another rumor was that he landed with the plane somewhere between Croydon and Dunkirk, where it was first seen to land, and disappeared, or that he vanished in a fast motorcar after landing at Dunkirk.

The Paris Journal had its correspondent at Calais investigate the possibility of Lowenstein's vanishing alive. He made a careful examination of official records of the flight and reached the conclusion that at the time which elapsed between the departure of the plane from Croydon and its landing at Dunkirk would have made it impossible for the plane to have made another stop en route.

The correspondent thought that Lowenstein would have been equally impossible for Lowenstein to have slipped away after the plane landed at Dunkirk without being observed.

Another Auto Count.
The members of the Chicago Motor Club force in this city are preparing to make another count of automobiles which cross the Galena avenue bridge between 6 a. m. and 6 p. m. tomorrow, with the expectation that the mark established Wednesday, the Fourth of July, when 9,098 cars were checked, will be beaten. A counting machine will be used in the check and there will be some member of the local force on duty every minute of the twelve hours so that no car can pass unnoticed. Wednesday's cars were from 22 states, with two from the Dominion of Canada.

VACATION TRIP GOES BLOOEY.
A tour of the country which Louis Christen, Herbert Mende and William Ring, Milwaukee youths, had planned in the Moon sedan of the former's father, came to an abrupt end near Ashton Friday afternoon, when the boys were captured by Deputy Sheriff Year of that place after they had attempted to steal gasoline from a farmer. After their capture and questioning by Sheriff Ward T. Miller it developed that the boys had stolen Christen's father's car and had planned a long tour. This morning Detective Guynn of the Milwaukee police department arrived with Robert Christen, the former father of the three boys and the latter driving his re-claimed car back home.

SEA BUT WAS GLAD FOR HIS RESCUE

Morton Hoyt, Prominent Washington Man, Was Near Death

New York, July 7.—(AP)—The steamship Rochambeau, due here Monday from Havre, has among other passengers, Morton Hoyt, member of a socially prominent Washington family, who jumped overboard off the Grand Banks and was rescued in twenty minutes.

At 8 o'clock last night when the ship was plowing its way through a dense fog, the cry "man overboard" was raised and it was learned that Hoyt had plunged into the Atlantic.

The vessel immediately turned in a complete circle and started back along its course with Captain Leon Rollin directing the search from the bridge. Within twenty minutes Mr. Hoyt was located and heard crying for help. A lifeboat was lowered and he was picked up completely exhausted from his struggle with the waves.

Regretted His Action.
He said he regretted jumping overboard and asked that he be allowed to sleep. The jump and rescue were described in radio advices to the Associated Press.

Mr. Hoyt is the son of the late Henry M. Hoyt, who served as solicitor general of the United States in the Taft administration.

Eleanor Hoyt Bennett and Nancy Hoyt Wynne, are his sisters. Mr. Hoyt married Jean Bankhead, daughter of the late Senator Bankhead of Alabama, a brother, Henry M. Hoyt, Jr., a portrait painter, committed suicide in New York in 1920.

BAND REHEARSAL
An important rehearsal of the Y. M. C. A. Boys band will be held Monday evening, and since there was no meeting of the organization last week Director Joe Glavin is desirous that all the members be present at the coming practice.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

FATHER IS DEAD.
Mrs. Walter Preston and daughters, Roxie and Helen, and George Breeding, left early this morning for Pinckneyville, in the extreme southern part of the state, called there by the death yesterday of the former's father, Garrett Williams. They are making the journey by motor.

FICTITIOUS LICENSE PLATES.
Louis Spence was apprehended by the Dixon police Friday evening driving an automobile with fictitious license plates, for which violation of the state laws he paid a fine of $10 and costs, assessed by Justice J. O. Shauls.

NACHUSA MAN BETTER.
O. R. Elcholtz of Nachusa, who has been a patient at the Dixon public hospital for several weeks, following an operation, will probably be discharged Monday and taken to his home. Mr. Elcholtz has been ill for nearly a year.

FIRE CRACKER INJURED HAND.
Kenneth Buzzard, Telegraph carrier boy, is faithfully carrying his route every evening despite the pain and uselessness of a badly burned left hand, caused by the explosion of a fire cracker in his hand Wednesday.

CAR KICKS BACK.
R. W. Sproul is carefully guarding his right arm and hand which he carries in a sling. A week or so ago he attempted to crank a car and the crank resisted, causing a painful injury to his arm which was broken and his hand was also cut and torn.

LICENSED TO WED.
The following marriage licenses have been issued by County Clerk Fred Dimick's office: Alvin H. Edwards of Sterling and Miss Dorothy D. Welch of Clinton, Iowa; Lewis O. Gorton and Mrs. Catherine Barnhart, both of Dixon; Roscoe Russell and Miss Louisa Strong, both of Dixon; Joseph T. Rutters and Mrs. Hazel Davidson of Dixon; Carl J. Zautner and Miss Florence M. Thissell, both of Rockford; Leon P. Baxley and Miss Anna Marie Worthington, both of Dixon.

TODAY'S MARKET REPORTS

Wheat Higher But Reacted At Close

Chicago, July 7—(AP)—With prevailing weather of a kind likely to accelerate development of black rust, wheat values showed an upward trend most of the time today. However, week end adjustment of accounts led to a reaction at the finish. Beers made much of the fact that arrivals of wheat at Kansas City, Elmd, Wichita, Hutchinson and Salina today reached a big aggregate, 158,000 cars.

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish, to 1/4c lower, corn 1/4c to 1/2c off, oats 1/4c to 1/2c down, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2c.

South Dakota dispatches pointing to more serious conditions than heretofore as regard to black rust practically monopolized attention of wheat traders at times today. One widely known authority wired that between Yankton and Mitchell, S. D., traces of black rust appear on the sheath of some wheat in about 50 per cent of fields of ruby wheat. He added that in two cases he observed the rust on the top sheath, and that further development of the rust depends on weather conditions.

On the other hand, record-breaking large loadings of newly harvested wheat were reported in the southwest. Wheat receipts today, at Kansas points especially, were again of much greater volume than a year ago. Nebraska reported wonderful harvest weather, and the seaboard said that only a limited amount of export business had been done over night in wheat from North America.

New York, July 7—(AP)—Stock prices pointed upward in today's brief session of the market. Buying operations centered in a select assortment of oils, steels, motors, high priced specialties and southwestern rails.

Extreme gains ranged from 10 to 18 points. Indian refining issues all moved into new high ground, the common and the common stock certificates selling at more than four times the year's low prices while the preferred, up 18 points at 225, was more than double the year's low. Reports that the leading oil refiners would show good earnings in the first six months of the year also brought some fresh buying into other oil shares.

Midland steel products preferred soared 11 points, making the week's gain about 30 points. Johns Manville ran up more than 7 points and Kelly Springfield six per cent preferred, Wright Aeronautical Radio and Lehn and Fink sold 3 points or more higher. Good demand also was noted for such popular industrials as U. S. Steel Common, General Motors, Colorado Fuel, International Harvester and American Express.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 700,000 shares.

Butter Market

Chicago, July 7—(AP)—The butter market opened the week with conditions much the same as those existing for the last several weeks. While there was no great activity, buying was sufficient to result in a fair clearance of stocks almost every day. Prices advance on all markets Friday.

For several weeks speculative operations in actual butter have been curbed by a general feeling that prices were a little too high. Prices held a rather even trend during June except for minor fluctuations which did not materially affect the general situation. June being the heavy producing month, operators felt that if prices could not be lowered in June there was little likelihood of a drop in July.

Receipts at the four markets for the first four days of the week were about 3,800 tubs lighter than the same period a week ago and 4,900 tubs lighter than a year ago. Stocks on hand Friday morning were 15,500,000 lbs. shorter than a year ago.

Weather conditions in all the producing sections were generally quite favorable.

Weekly Grain

Chicago, July 7—(AP)—Wheat trade leaders in Chicago expect that the next few weeks will tell the story of the spring wheat crop of 1928. The period for black rust scares in spring wheat territory is at hand, and whether the rust will do much damage or not is now in the lap of the Gods.

With receipts of newly harvested winter wheat steadily enlarging, however, the wheat market this morning compared with a week ago was 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c a bushel lower. At the same time, corn was varying from 1/2c decline to 2 1/2c advance, oats were 1 1/2c to 2 1/2c down, and provisions 2c to 80c up.

According to one Chicago authority, the wheat supply and demand status at present is such that should Canada start to tell of crop damage, it might change the entire world position as to wheat. Up-to-date reports here describe the Canadian new crop outlook as about the best ever known and there is actually in sight 94,000,000 bushels of Canadian old spot wheat. On the other hand, the prospective total yield of wheat in the United States this season, exclusive of black rust damage which may or may not develop, is 103,000,000 bushels less than last year.

Hot muggy conditions in the northwest from now on, or the absence of such conditions, will decide the amount of black rust damage this season, so crop experts here assert.

Corn values are irregular, influenced on the one side largely by scantiness of receipts, and on the other by estimates that the new corn crop will total nearly 3,000,000,000 bushels. Oats prices are reflecting the start of the oats harvest. Falling-off in the hog movement is chiefly responsible for an upward swing of the provision market.

CONFERENCE PLANS

Washington, July 7—(AP)—Members of the Republican National Committee from eastern states were invited to confer today with Secretary Hoover and National Chairman Work upon the establishment of a regional campaign organization.

Secretary Hoover is anxious to perfect his campaign organization before leaving the capital and to this end a similar gathering of national committee men from the west has been announced for next week.

The plan is to set up divisional headquarters at Chicago and New York with a central office in Washington. Secretary Hoover of New Hampshire, who was called to today's conference, has been mentioned as a possible manager for the New York office, while it is expected that James W. Good, Mr. Hoover's pre-convention campaign manager, will be put in charge at Chicago.

MEDALS OFFERED TO FIGHTERS IN VERDUN SECTOR

Lee County Soldiers Who Served in That Sector Should Apply

Lee county veterans of the World War who served in the Verdun sector are entitled to a commemorative medal—a present from the City of Verdun—on presentation of proof of their service in that part of the scene of conflict between July 31, 1914, and Nov. 11, 1918.

Horace Ort Post No. 540, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been entrusted with the responsibility of securing and forwarding local applications for such commemorative medals, and applications for such can be secured from Albert Ruggles, 811 College ave., Dixon, Commander of the local post.

The applications must give the name and address, rank, organization, commanding officer and date of service in the Verdun sector.

Details of the offer of "La Medaille de Verdun" as given in a circular sent out by the officials of the City of Verdun, are:

On the 20th of November, 1916, the City of Verdun created a commemorative medal—not an official order—but an insignia of the Soldiers of Verdun, which has been dedicated thus:

To the Great Chiefs, to the Officers, to the Soldiers, to all, heroes, known or unknown, living or dead, who triumphed over the onrush of the barbarians, and immortalized their name throughout the world for centuries to come, the City of Verdun, inviolate and arisen from her ruins, dedicates this medal in witness of her gratitude.

DISTRIBUTION—

Veterans, only of the French and Allied Armies, who were on active service between July 31st, 1914, and November 11th, 1918, in the Verdun Sector—(including the Argonne and St. Mihiel), and within the zone under enemy shell fire, (excluding aircraft bombardment), have the right to this medal.

Claims must be approved by the Commission du Livre d'Or which has been officially appointed for their verification, and for the inscriptions (Name, Christian Names, Rank, Regiment, date and place of service).

Claims for approval must be addressed to M. le President du Livre d'Or, Hotel de Ville, Verdun.

The names of the Soldiers of Verdun are to be inscribed in the Golden Book, which will be kept in the Crypt of the Monument erected in the center of the City on the battlements of the old ramparts of the middle ages.

One Golden Book will be kept for the names of the killed, and another for those of the survivors.

The cost of inscription is free. The price of the medal is 15 francs (including all charges and postage paid), which should be sent to M. le President du Livre d'Or, Hotel de Ville, Verdun, by cash, check or postal order.

DESCRIPTION—The medal is of bronze, with a view of the Tour Chaussee, well known to all who came to Verdun, and with the famous countersign.

Verdun—On ne Passe Pas!

It is suspended by a red ribbon, with a tricolor border. The wearing of the ribbon alone is forbidden, but the medal may be worn at official ceremonies and assemblies where it becomes a rallying sign for "Soldiers of Verdun".

R. PANAU, President of the "Golden Book", L. BERTHAMY, President of the Veterans of Verdun, "On ne passe pas".

VICTOR SCHLEITER, Mayor of Verdun and Deputy for the Meuse.

THE BRAVE OLD OAK

Alfred B. Street
A song to the oak, the brave old oak,
Who hath ruled in the green-wood long;
Here's health and renown to his broad green crown,
And his fifty arms so strong.
There's fear in his frown when the sun goes down,
And the fire in the west fades out;
And he showeth his might on a wild midnight,
When the storms through his branches shout.

Then here's to the oak, the brave old oak,
Who stands in his pride alone;
And still flourish he, a hale green tree,
When a hundred years are gone!

In the days of old, when the spring with cold
Had brightened his branches gray,
Through the grass at his feet crept maidens sweet,
To gather the dew of May.

The waterfall's bound fills the scene all round
With its blending, exulting refrain.
In its crannies the hair-stem'd columbine nod,
The fern in its sprinkles drips;
And the little black dipper all over bridge
Of the spanning pine-tree skips;

Of the dashing and flashing pool;
Where the angler scoops up his wreathed hopple-leaf cup,
And the trout poises deep in the cool.

Worthington-Baxley Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Worthington, 207 Peoria avenue, announce the wedding of their daughter, Anna Marie Worthington, to Leon Baxley, also of Dixon.

The wedding, which was a very quiet one, took place Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the study of Rev. A. Turley Stephenson, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city. The bride and bridegroom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. James Angell, of Sterling, who were married but a few weeks ago. Mrs. Angell (nee Ruth Worthington) and Mrs. Baxley are sisters. The bride was charmingly gowned in a summery frock of figured georgette and her train of honor wore a pretty gown of yellow georgette. Afterward a simple wedding luncheon with decorations of garden flowers, was served to the immediate relatives at the bride's home, and Mr. and Mrs. Baxley left immediately on a wedding tour to Yellowstone Park, motoring through Mrs. Baxley were a modish tweed suit with hat harmonizing.

Mr. Baxley is a civil engineer, working out of the Dixon office of the State Division of Highways, Illinois Department of Public Works. Since coming to Dixon several years ago he has made many friends by his pleasant, sincere personality. His bride, a vivacious, charming Dixon girl, from one of the old families of the city, counts her friends by her acquaintances. She is the valued assistant in the office of Dr. E. A. Skels in Dixon. Both Mr. and Mrs. Baxley have the sincere best wishes of their many friends for future happiness. On their return from the west, they will take up their residence with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Worthington until spring, and then like all good engineers Mr. Baxley will await orders from the state. It is whispered that many friends will anxiously await the return of the newlyweds to give them several surprises for Mrs. Baxley gave her friends no opportunity to entertain for her before her wedding, and was always one of the first to entertain for other brides-to-be.

Zautner-Thisell Wedding on Friday

July seems to be giving as good an account of itself in the matter of weddings, so far, as June did. Yesterday there were two of which we write, the Worthington-Baxley marriage, and the Zautner-Thisell marriage. Carl H. Zautner of Rockford and Florence M. Thisell, also of Rockford were united in marriage Friday at 1:30 o'clock at the parsonage to St. Paul's Lutheran church, the pastor, Rev. L. W. Walker officiating at the ceremony. The couple was unattended. After the ceremony the newlyweds returned to Rockford to make their home.

MENU for the FAMILY

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST—Strawberries with sliced bananas, ready-to-serve cereal, fish hash, spider corn bread, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Jellied veal loaf, creamed carrots, tomato and cabbage salad, white butter cake, shredded fresh pineapple, milk, tea.

DINNER—Vegetable plate of rice croquettes, creamed peas, buttered beets and spinach timbales, whole wheat rolls, jelly, coconut custard pie, milk, coffee.

White Butter Cake

One-half cup butter, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1-2 cup milk, 1-3-4 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon flavoring, 1-4 teaspoon salt, whites 3 eggs.

Cream butter and gradually beat in sugar which has been sifted twice. Sift flour three or four times and add 1-2 cup to creamed butter and sugar. Mix and sift remaining flour, salt and baking powder and add alternately with milk to first mixture. Beat well as every ingredient is added. Place batter in refrigerator or cool place while beating whites of eggs until stiff and dry. Fold into batter and turn into two oiled and floured round layer cake pans. Bake 25 minutes in a moderate oven. Fill and cover with a boiled icing.

When baking in warm weather and when the cake batter has to stand for several minutes as in this recipe, the batter is placed in the ice box to hinder the action of the baking powder until needed for the cake.

Short Interviews With Famous Women

Edith Mae Cummings, Detroit's millionaire realtor who in four years rose from a telephone switchboard to the president's office in her own company, believes that women must forget their sex if they want to succeed in business.

"Soulful eyes, a fair for clothes and a 'way with men' may boom a woman socially," she said. "But the only figures that intrigue the interest of men of affairs during working hours are ledger ones which show him profits."

"I do not think all women can succeed in business any more than all women can make excellent wives and mothers," she continued. "There is one thing each woman can do better than anything else. The wise woman will find out if she has talent for business, the arts, the home, or whatever she has in mind."

"Success is open to any woman who makes up her mind definitely what she wants to do, and then goes ahead. Failure usually is due to the fact that there is indecision in the mind of a woman whether she is in the right work."

"But the decision made, they should forget their sex and remember that business is a science that can be learned. They should succeed as individuals, not as women."

Dorcas Aid Society In Happy Meeting

The Dorcas Society of the Congregational church held a well attended meeting Thursday afternoon at the church. Mrs. Harvey Eggericks opened the meeting and led in prayer. Reports of the recent convention were given. The sick have been well remembered with flowers, also. Arrangements have been made to hold an ice cream social on the evening of July 19th at the church. It was also decided to hold a rummage sale in the near future. A new member was taken into the society. During the social hour the birthdays of a couple of members were remembered by the society and a happy social hour was enjoyed. Miss Edna Nowell, Mrs. Abram Ackert and Mrs. C. H. Stackpole were on the hostess committee. The date of the next meeting will be announced later because of the Bible Conference and members desiring to attend it.

Everything Is Peppy At Girls' Camp

LOCAL BRIEFS

Jane Earll is sick with white measles due to cold cream.

Today in tent one the phonograph had spasms.

This morning while Harriet Utley was looking at the book of movie stars she suddenly came upon Don Alvarado and she nearly jumped out of her cot.

Mr. Yohn caught the minnows which he had for breakfast. His fishing has improved greatly in the past ten years.

Miss Thompson has gone back to her second childhood days because she has been eating bread and sugar along with the rest.

Merna is going to have a fight. She spilled half a salt shaker full of salt.

A snake shared part of our swimming class this afternoon.

Frances Forsythe was surprised to find another minnow trying to wear her bathing suit this afternoon.

The girls were very busy picking gray hairs out of Mrs. Yohn's head yesterday. It is believed that she now looks five years younger.

SOCIETY

By Lois Weitzel

This morning assembly was held at usual time and Miss Thompson gave a short talk which was very interesting. Miss Thompson also taught the girls a game.

Miss Lindstrom also taught us several songs. Last night at campfire each tent had to do a stunt under American History which was also interesting. We sang a few songs at campfire too.

After campfire we went over to the baseball diamond and many fireworks were shot off. We took pictures of the fireworks and they were very interesting.

CLASSES

By Evelyn Kreim

Instead of coloring pictures this morning, Mr. Kellogg took us on a nature hike where we saw many birds and insects. We crossed the creek and hunted for cornelia stones. Helen Russell being the only lucky person to find one. Mr. Kellogg gave us some excellent instructions about taking pictures and we took some good views.

SPORTS

By Mary Hamilton

Last evening at the baseball game Marian Schmidt and Jarlath Jones chose sides. The final score was 13 to 4 in favor of Marian's side. Afterward our usual games were conducted by Miss Thompson.

We wonder why only three people took a dip this morning. Can anyone tell us the reason?

'Tis afternoon we had just the open hour of swimming.

Gypsy Hike

We followed the pattern trail which was made of blue and pink paper. After a long hunt around the vicinity of the camp we came to the treasure which was at the top of the hill. Needless to say, everyone was ready for supper and a few games.

We clambered down to a game of baseball which awaited us.

HUMOR

By Merna Suter

A Letter Written in 1933 From Betty to Harry Lazier.

Dear Brother:

I received some letters out here at Y camp from some of the old kids of the camp of 1923. You should hear what some of them are doing. I'll name them off.

Mrs. Yohn is running a beauty parlor down south.

Mr. Yohn is a barber in the same place.

Marian Schmidt is making her debut in society in New York under the guidance of a rich aunt.

Billie Scott, Jane Earll and Dorothy Smith are very successful in the

THE GROOM'S GOAT GETTER!

Ziegfeld Follies.

Del Blackburn is studying aviation under Lindbergh.

Our quiet little Wilbur Stutzel is an undertaker in Walla Walla, Washington.

Ruth Kerz is married and lives in Fulton.

Harriet Utley is a nursemaid for a number of small children.

Avis Richardson is physical instructor of this camp.

Frances Forsythe has won the honor of being the first woman to swim the North Sea.

Mary Hamilton, Sara Altekruze and Dorothy Sproul are kindergarten teachers.

Helen Russell is the present belle of Rochelle and Pearl Neff of Dixon.

Evelyn Kreim is preparing to enter the movies.

Dorothy Hofmann is teaching Ned Wayburn's School of Dancing.

Dorothy Schrock has just carried off the latest beauty prize at Atlantic City.

Evelyn Neff is life saver at Lowell park.

Helen Devenny is interior decorator in a pastry shop.

Jane Buckaloo has been sent to Sing Sing for a year for disturbing the peace.

Kathleen Feely, Helen Hansen and Kathleen Cotter are in high school capturing all honors for brilliant scholarship.

Helen Chapman is giving instruction on getting thin in six lessons.

Lois Weitzel and Kathleen Nagle are taking a teaching course.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg are giving lessons in art in the far west.

Mrs. Kline is chef at the Waldorf.

Astoria.

Miss Thompson is happily married and teaching her children upsetting exercises.

Well, Harry, I think this will be enough of a shock for one time. I'll write you again soon.

Your loving sister, Betty.

Bridge Made Easy

Overcalling Partner's Bid—1.

If your partner makes a bid, and second hand passes, any bid made by you thereafter should have only one object in view—to furnish such information as will aid in determining the best game-going declaration.

By making another bid you are not endeavoring to prevent your partner from playing the hand. Proper information should be welcomed and never resented for games are often lost by the failure of partners to exchange it. The expression, "the partners are fighting" is erroneous. It is merely an honest effort to determine the best.

No matter what declaration your partner has made there may be lurking in your hand a bettering bid. Your hand may contain a danger signal of which your partner should be apprised. The moment the first declaration is made you should endeavor to visualize your partner's cards. With a knowledge of the minimum requirements for an opening bid and an examination of your own cards, the least you can do is to make an effort to "read" your partner's holding. This cannot be accomplished at the bridge table without concentration.

You may be forgiven for making errors in playing but it is unpardonable to fail to make a real effort to draw some inference from your partner's bid even if that inference be wrong.

Reading cards is one of the greatest thrills and pleasures of bridge playing. This ability to read cards is possessed to a high degree by those players who have so-called "card sense," but it can be developed by any person who is willing to master the conventions and probabilities of the game and to draw inferences. Experts find no difficulty in determining the best game-going declaration. By following certain accepted conventions and guides you too can reduce guesswork to a minimum.

It is not mandatory that you make a declaration every time your partner has bid. If you possess a valueless hand or you have a partial score, a bid made by you thereafter may be damaging and retrogressive. (Copyright, 1928, by the Ready Reference Publishing Co.)

W. M. S. Held Most Enjoyable Meeting

The W. M. S. of the Christian Church held a most delightful meeting at the pleasant home of Mrs. J. F. Kindig Thursday afternoon with 23 members and 5 guests present to enjoy the splendid meeting, the first, beginning the new Missionary year. All joined in singing the opening hymn, and the President, Mrs. Kin-dig, called on Mrs. Cleaver for prayer.

Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were accepted as read. The Literature Secretary's report on the year's reading and points gained was 189 books read with 2135 points.

Mrs. Kindig gave an inspiring talk on "What the Missionary Work of the Church Means to the Women." Mrs. Newcomb as leader of the Devotional period called on Mrs. Martin for the Scripture reading, II Cor. 5:14, "For the love of Christ constraineth us." It being the subject for study.

Mrs. A. S. Derr, who is noted for her splendid way of presenting subjects gave an excellent speech on "Service Through the Woman's Missionary Society."

Mrs. Mesdames Newcomb, Kindig, Fellows and Seyster told of the duties of the different officers, etc.

The story told by Mrs. Reagan, entitled "Here and There" presented some real pictures of the excuses so often given for not attending the Missionary meetings ending with the song, a duet, "In the Garden," by Mesdames Reagan and Derr.

After a circle of prayer, Mrs. Cleaver had charge for the Fellowship period, presenting a clever game, "Hidden Missionaries." Mrs. Derr being the one to guess each name correctly.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be a picnic the 2nd of August at the home of Mrs. Ward Hall.

BEAUTY SHOP STUDENTS PRACTICE ON THE POOR—

Paris—(AP)—The poor young mother who in tearful melodramas sells her tresses to buy bread for her starving children now has two more meat tickets offered her by Fashion.

When her head of long hair is gone at a good price, she still can rent the use of her bobbed head for the practice of future hairdressers and call about student manicurists to file her nails.

These are new professions of the poor and the courageous. There is no hardship now in the sale of the braided pigtail, but there is pain and humiliation in the frequent marcel and the oft-repeated maniche. The young hairdresser, too unskilled to be trusted with a customer, experiments with iron too hot or too cold on hair that in a few days is burned and ragged and ugly with uneven waves.

And the manicurists prick and cut in learning their trade until the patient, although well paid, soon prefers hunger.

RETURN FROM CAMPING TRIP TO WHITE ROCK—

Misses Mary Mueller, Dorothy Plock, Ruth Knapp and Josephine O'Hare have returned to Dixon from a pleasant camping trip at the Lehman cottage, where Mr. John Smith was chaperon. On July 4th Bob Ketchen, Harold Gerdes of Dixon and Arthur O'Hare of Rockford spent the day at the cottage, and in the evening Clarence Myers of Dixon joined the party.

ARE GUESTS AT THE HOME OF MRS. KING—

Mrs. John W. King, 815 Galena avenue has as guests, her brother, George Wilkins of Oak Park; and nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hutton and daughter, Helen, of Elmwood Park, Ill. Miss Helen will remain with her aunt on an extended vacation.

GUESTS AT EDWARD AND AUGUST SCHICK HOMES—

Mrs. L. C. Lentz of Deshler, Neb., and Mrs. Lentz of Beatrice, Neb., and children, Norma and Donald, are visiting at the Edward and August Schick homes in this city.

ENTERTAINED OVER THE FOURTH OF JULY—

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richmond Matthews of St. Louis were guests over the Fourth of July of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Leith of this city. Mr. Matthews is a nephew of Mr. Leith.

The WOMAN'S DAY- by ALLENE SUDER

George Jean Nathan is not so different from John Smith and Tom Brown, whose names at the beginning of a paragraph would arrest no one, when he says that "My wife would have to be brilliant and beautiful." How do men get that way?

The less prepossessing their own physiognomies the surer they are that only a Helen of Troy or Clara of Bow can be found at all acceptable as a wife.

And yet that plenty of women who are neither Helens nor Cleos nor Claras get married is proven by any warm Sunday at the beach when the missus comes forth with the progeny.

Does it mean that love makes every woman beautiful to the lover? Does it mean that when a theoretical lover becomes a practical lover he does care a hoot whether the lovee is beautiful or not, or does it mean that there aren't enough beauties to go around and that they must be saved for the George Jeans while the common herd takes what's left?

Zion Household Science Club Meets

The Zion Household Science club met with Mrs. Hazel Maynard on Thursday with Mrs. Clifford Poisel as assisting hostess. There were twenty members present and eight visitors.

The meeting was opened by the president, and a verse of America was sung. Roll call was answered to with "What I Like to Do Best in My Home, and Why." Plans were made to hold the annual picnic of the club on July 15th at Lawrence Park in Rock Falls. It was also planned to hold an ice cream social the last week in July.

During the pleasant social hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Maynard and Poisel.

ARE WEEK-END GUESTS IN THE CITY—

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Hildebrand, Mrs. E. J. Wehman, wife of the noted E. J. Wehman, and daughter Adele, of Burlington, Iowa; and Mrs. J. A. Stewart of Vernon, Texas, are week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Mumma, and the Robert Fulton and J. W. Atkins families.

HAVE RETURNED FROM SHORT WEDDING TRIP—

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Rutters returned to their home in Dixon after spending a short wedding trip in Madison, Wis. Their many friends unite in wishing them many years of happiness.

GEORGE C. LOVELAND.

The will of the late George C. Loveland, as announced in a recent issue of this newspaper, leaves practically his entire estate to the City of Dixon for the building and maintenance of a community building, subject to the life interest of Mrs. Loveland and certain annuities to relatives. The sum which will be available for the project will be approximately a half million dollars.

It is difficult to put into words the appreciation the people of Dixon feel for this great and generous gift. Mr. Loveland's action is the biggest thing in all Dixon's history. It represents the lifetime work of a careful investor, a hard worker and a far-sighted businessman. Dixon, his home town, gets it all. The building which will eventually be erected here and bear his name will be a beautiful monument to the patriotism, industry and splendid generosity of Mr. Loveland. To Mrs. Loveland also should go a share of Dixon's gratitude, for Mr. Loveland worked out his plan for Dixon's gift with her, and had co-operation and approval.

With characteristic good judgment, Mr. Loveland selected the one thing most needed in Dixon to be the beneficiary of his fortune. A Community Building will be of inestimable value and will be a big factor in the up-building of the community and an object of pride for all of Dixon. The magnitude of the bequest insures a very commodious and beautiful building with ample endowment to main it

HERE'S A BARGAIN.

Do you know, Mr. Business Man, Mr. Professional Man, Mr. Property Owner or Mr. Farmer, that when you pay the Dixon Chamber of Commerce $25 for your year's dues you employ the day and night, weekday and Sunday services of about seventy-five capable and energetic men for a year? That is not all you get, but that totals the membership of the active committees who are bending every effort toward a bigger and better Dixon.

Just as a sample: The Advertising committee, headed by J. Frank Bennett, has been communicating and meeting with the various garages, gasoline filling stations, hotels, restaurants, confectionery stores, cigar stores, and such business houses as have contact with tourists passing through Dixon and has acquainted them with the advertising policies that are proposed or already in operation. All of these business houses are requested to see that every tourist visiting Dixon this summer receives one of the new "Facts Concerning Dixon" books.

Mr. Bennett and his committee have endeavored to impress most forcefully the importance of advertising Dixon to every visitor, setting forth the many advantages of this community, including its resources, its scenic beauty and historical background, its industrial possibilities, etc.

The work that the advertising committee is doing can be of no special benefit to any individual. It is for all of us, and all Dixon will benefit.

Another example typical of public service being rendered by committee workers is the report for June of the Industrial Development Committee, headed by L. E. Jacobson. This committee wrote 850 letters to corporations in Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, New York and Rhode Island, urging Dixon as a location for manufacturing plants. These letters were all originals, and that they were read is attested by the large number of replies.

This committee has been in communication during the month with many manufacturing concerns in the middle-west and at the present time at least three of them are considering Dixon. A program of "follow up" letters to nearly a thousand concerns in the Chicago district is now being launched. The committee is confident that some splendid results will follow its work.

If you are not a member of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce these men are working for you for nothing. Would you not prefer to feel that you were paying your share? Understand that none of the committee workers are paid a cent, but your membership is needed to carry on the general expense of this campaign for a greater Dixon. These committee workers get their pay in satisfaction of a patriotic work well done. You can experience that same pleasant feeling by contributing your membership fee.

It's getting to be quite a serious problem for a man about to marry to choose a little woman that will help him with the dishes.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

The Tynmites clung to the giraffe. The way he galloped made them laugh. His body teeter-tottered, and they all bounced quite a bit. "Oh, gee," cried Copy, "this is fun. How fast this old giraffe can run. But say, his back is really not the nicest place to sit."

Then Clowny said, "Oh, it's all right, if we can all just hang on tight. I wonder where he's taking us. I hope we don't get lost." Then in the midst of all the sport, the lanky legged giraffe stopped short. The Tynmites lost their balance. In a heap they all were tossed.

They sure looked funny on the ground. Each one sat up and looked around. "Is anybody injured?" questioned Scouty. "Mercy no!" replied the Tynmites, and then they climbed upon the giraffe again. "Giddap!" exclaimed one Tyny. "Back to camp we want to go."

They reached there, after quite a tear, and found the hunter waiting there. "I'm glad you're back," he shouted. "There are zebras near at hand. I'd like to catch a couple now. If you will help, I'll show you how." Sure! That sounds good, cried Carpy. "We will gladly lend a hand."

Back in the woods the whole bunch went and about a half an hour was spent in finding two small zebras, with their stripes of black and white. "A clever trick I'm going to stage. I'll shortly chase them to my cage," exclaimed the hunter. "But, right now, you all stay out of sight."

The Tynmites hid behind some trees. The hunter, with apparent ease, drove both the zebras from the woods, and then he loudly cried, "Come on, now, make them run along. Keep right behind. We can't go wrong." The zebras raced on toward the cage, and promptly ran inside.

(The Tynmites have a zebra race in the next story.)

MARYE and 'MOM' Their Letters

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Dear Mom:
Things do happen to me these days. And just now, without my having had any part in the matter, Fate has just used me for a pawn again.

In the first place, this is my last week as a style model. I was not fired; I am leaving with a record of honorable service behind me, and Madame Elise will take me back in the fall if I want to go.

She says no one ever has worn her simple frocks with more distinction than I, and that she would enjoy designing for my type and just seeing what she could make out of my particular combination of lines and angles.

My career is closing temporarily because of Alan. He is really quite a deep person, with more understanding to my complex nature than I suspected. He has said nothing against my being in the shop, and has put no obstacles of any sort in my way. But just the same, I know now that he was really plotting the downfall of my independence.

He has been talking a great deal lately about the rush and bustle of the city, wishing he lived nearer the golf club, and complaining he was getting heavy because he can't exercise as much as he should.

Saturday we motored out along the shore and suddenly we found ourselves in front of the best looking building, with the most magnificent grounds all around. Alan said he thought it looked like a hotel, and we might stop and get some food.

It proved to be just that. Before dinner we surveyed the bathing beach, which was second to nothing I have ever seen. I was enchanted by the place, and after I tasted their fried chicken and waffles, I was maudlin about it. Alan didn't say much.

During the dinner, I raved on, and Alan said that there was no reason why we should not come out and stay during the summer, if I wanted to—that the apartment would be hot anyhow, and that Mary wanted a vacation and we could pension her until fall—if my work were not too important to keep me in the city.

I thought of the good swim I could have every day, and of how I could play tennis in the afternoon, and clothes and careers seemed very unimportant, so I told Alan I'd gladly quit my job for a summer on the shore.

Before we went back to town we had reserved a suite overlooking the water, and that was that. Looking back, Alan did give himself away, and I'm perfectly sure he had it all planned that we would go there, and that he would let me sell myself on the idea rather than suggest it himself.

Well, anyhow, that wasn't the queerest part. After we had completed our arrangements, and Alan went to get the car, whom do you suppose I bumped right into. None other than my friend of the crooked eyebrows—Brother Shelton. And prepare yourself for the worst—he also is living here for the summer! Now don't blame me for this, mother dear. This time I was innocent as a lamb. Apparently, Fate has something in mind.

Devotedly,
MARYE.

NEXT: Mom warns Marye.

NEW YORK PAPER SAYS PINES WILL BE "SHOW PLACE"

Illinois State Park is Getting Notices Through the Press

Illinois' new state park, "The Pines in Ogle county is getting publicity far and wide it seems. Eastern tourists who read the New York Herald-Tribune were recently treated to a story on "The Pines" which should have whetted their appetites for a sight of this natural beauty spot.

Following is the story printed by the New York Herald-Tribune in its issue of Sunday, June 3. It was accompanied by a picture which gave a fine view of the gigantic pine trees.

"Illinois' newest public park, the famous white pine forest of Ogle county, thrown open to the public this summer for the first time, gives promise of proving among the most popular. Already thousands of tourists by motor have visited the scene of woodland beauty, believed to be the last grove of white pine surviving in the middle west. The acquisition of the tract of 600 or more acres by the state, recently authorized by their legislature, follows an agitation of more than thirty years by conservationists who feared that the forest, if destroyed by fire, could never be replaced, at least during the present generation. One of the picturesque features of the White Pine Grove is Pine Creek, the name of which indicates the region and which is about twenty-five miles in length. "The creek finds its way by many windings between high, mossy fern and vine covered walls of rock, through the cool depths of the forest, on to Rock river, near its curious bend at Grand Detour, and adds an alluring beauty to the stately trees with their deep green, waving, plumelike branches and feathery crowns."

"The Burlington Railroad Company in constructing a road from this waterway and went through a Chicago to St. Paul in 1885, crossed scattering stands of white pine trees. However, the finest of them were left untouched. The rocks were blasted to furnish a natural bridge over Pine Creek, the water rippling far beneath. The railway now forms the boundary of the north edge of the forest."

"On the east the highway terminates the pine area, this road extending to Mount Morris, five miles to the north. The south boundary is marked by another highway connecting Polo and Oregon. Until recent years the highways ran through well timbered areas of hardwood trees of various species. Where the pines are gone along the creek and the land has been left undisturbed, the broadleaf trees, such as oak and hickory, are still to be found."

"The closest stand of the pines is at the north end of the grove, while to the south is found a general mixture, with vigorous young pines of varying ages and branches drooping gracefully near to the earth. The red cedar is to be found extensively, together with the American yew, or ground hemlock. The latter is found in the region creeping most abundantly and luxuriously over the rocky walls in long stretches."

"Among the broadleaf trees are the red, white, burr, scarlet and chinquapin oak, white and slippery elm, large tooth aspen, quaking aspen, sugar maple, boxelder, hop hornbeam, red mulberry, black walnut, butternut, shagbark, pignut, mockernut, hickory, sycamore, blackberry, white and black ash, black and choke cherry, wild plum, basswood, hop tree, black willow and juneberry, many of which are almost extinct in Illinois, but which will now be preserved by the ownership by the state of the white pine forest."

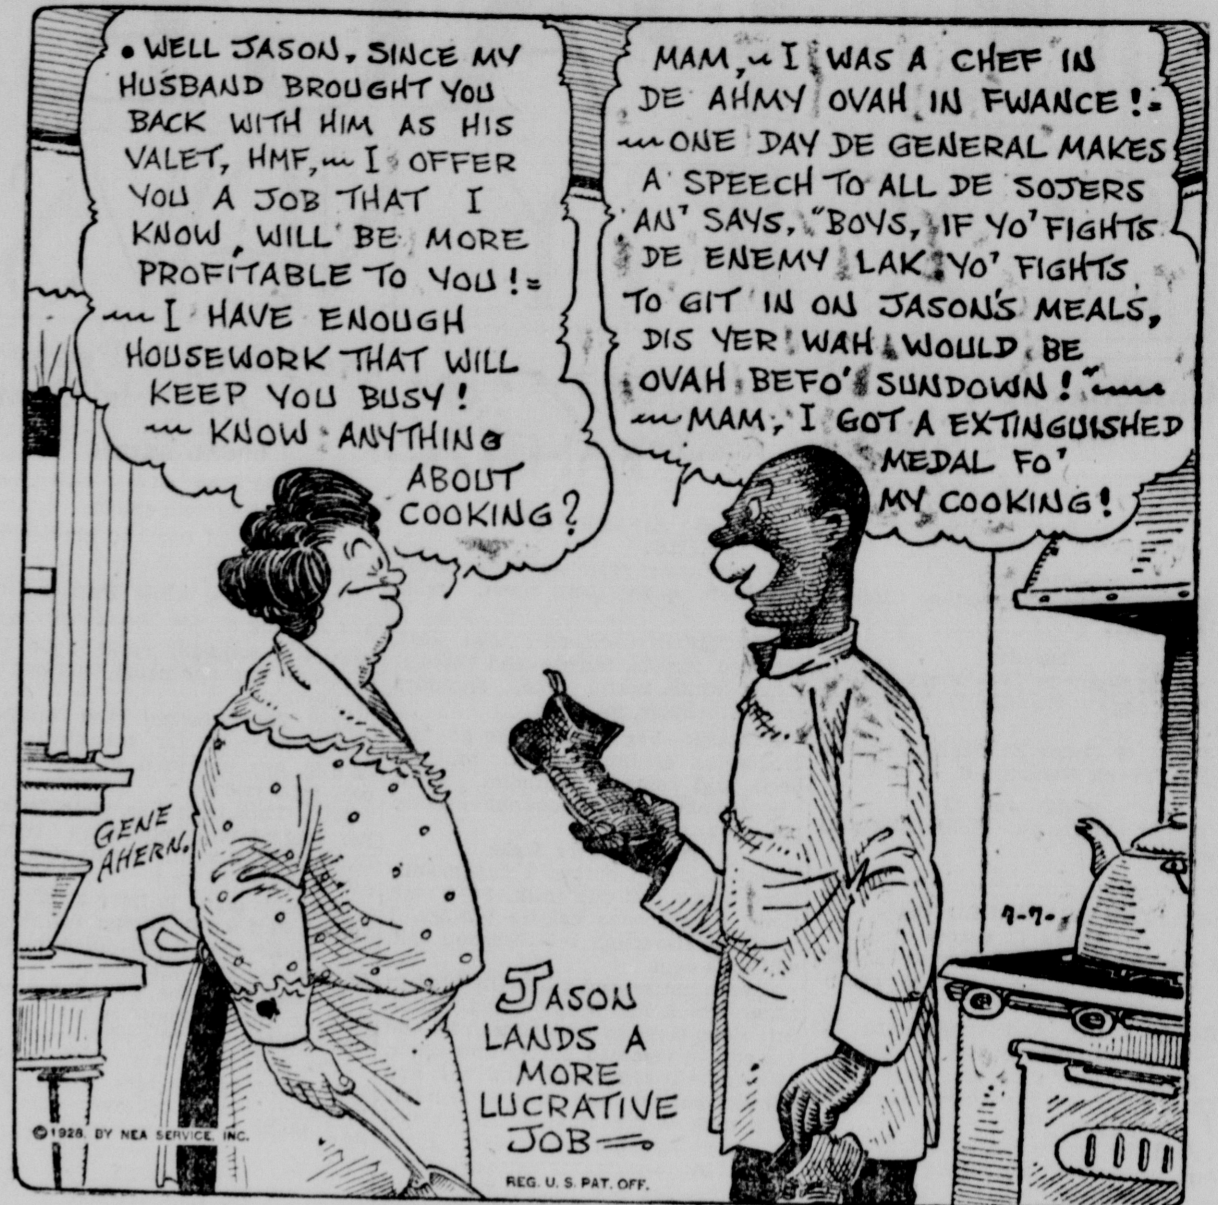

"In addition to the trees in the forest there is a great variety of blooming plants, vines and shrubs. The pines, however, are the leading attraction. Their maximum height is ninety feet and the largest diameter breast high, is thirty inches. It is believed that a few years of care and good management such as now can be expected with state ownership, will make this grove a beautiful spot and a fine object lesson in forest preservation and regeneration."

"During the year 1903, through the efforts of the Oregon Women's Council, the legislature adopted a bill which appropriated $30,000 for the purchase of the grove, but was in disfavor with Governor Yates, who vetoed it. Not discouraged by this unexpected setback, the conservationists have regularly reintroduced the bill, but only recently did it meet general approval."

"Steps are now being taken to improve the roads through the forest so

Meet Forrester in Game in Dixon

The Dixon Independents will make their initial appearance in the Black Hawk Baseball League—which incidentally has been enlarged to include eight teams—at their field on West Seventh street tomorrow afternoon, and to give the season an auspicious start with a big attendance the management has declared opening day will be Ladies Day, with an invitation to every fair fan to be a guest of the management at the first game. With the enlargement of the league to an eight-club loop a new schedule has been adopted, the teams participating being: Dixon Independents, Polo, Forrester, Milledgeville, Shannon, Freeport, Rockford Mutuals and Rockford Highland A. C. Each of the eight teams is slated to meet all of the others in two games.

Primed for Opening. The Independents are all primed for their opening game tomorrow afternoon, when they meet Forrester. The team showed it could hit good pitching when it met the Princeton salaried team last Sunday—and they expect to make life interesting for the opposing pitchers during the league season. Reddish and Skelton will be the battery for the Independents in tomorrow's battle, with Bill Hargraves, Roy Rusk, Harry Downs and Ed Beach, Butch Hargraves, and Al

DIXON TEAM IS PRAISED HIGHLY
BY MENDOTA ED.

Joe Miller, Pitcher, is Also Spoken of in Commendation

Praise of the J. I. Case Co. baseball team of this city and their pitcher, Joe Miller, is given by the sports writer of the Mendota Reporter, published Friday, as follows:

The J. I. Case team of Dixon decisively defeated the Mendota Yanks last Sunday by a score of 13 to 3. Joe Miller, son of Sheriff Ward Miller, was on the mound for Dixon, and twirled a fine game. His father, who had big league experience, and played on the local diamond, must have tutored his son well and the young man has the makings of a real baseball player.

The Dixon team was the fastest that has opposed the Yanks this season, not only in fielding but in healthy batting. Jervis Hill started on the mound for Mendota and after several innings gave way to Garzonio. He was later relieved by Dittmar. They were all treated alike and no favoritism shown. Dixon had an uncanny ability of pulling out Texas leaguers, seemingly knowing how to place their hits. Their work on the bases was unusual, pilfering every base possible, and some fans were thinking strongly of putting padlocks on the local players' gloves. Roe and Dittmar were the only Yanks who solved Miller's delivery, each securing two safe hits. Wolf made the fifth hit, which was a triple.

The box score was as follows:

Will Play at Streater
Next Sunday the Yanks journey to Streater where they will meet the Streater Coca Cola's. The latter team has a fast aggregation of ball tossers, but the Yanks expect to bring home a victory.

Watching the Big Scoreboard

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Experts who made Pittsburgh a favorite to win the National League race again look bad but the Pirates look worse. After dropping their fifth straight game yesterday to the New York Giants, 11 to 7, the Pirates were imbedded more firmly in sixth place.

The Pirates fought their way through one of the hottest campaigns in National League history last year and emerged victorious by a narrow margin. Then they lost to the New York Yankees, American League champions, bowing in four straight games.

The Pirates have had their share of injuries but the chief difficulty has been with the pitching staff. The victory yesterday put McGraw's men only two games back of the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals.

The Chicago Cubs, led by Hack Wilson, hammered out a 14 to 8 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers and consolidated their position in third place. Wilson got four hits, including his 20 and 21st home runs. He now leads Jim Bottomley of the Cards by three in their battle for leadership in four-baggers.

A four run rally in the ninth by the Washington Senators just failed of a tie and the Chicago White Sox won their fifth game of the week, 9 to 8. The Sox, in the cellar not so long ago, advanced into a tie with the Senators for fifth place, and not far removed from the Cleveland Indians, a notch higher in the standing.

Rain washed out the rest of the day's major league card.

Yale, California
to Fight It Out

BY F. G. VOSBURGH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Philadelphia, July 7.—(AP)—The United States today was resting its hopes for victory in the eight-oared rowing event in the Olympic games upon one of two undefeated crews as nearly alike as two stars in its flag.

Because only one eight can be sent to Amsterdam these two great combinations—Yale and California—fight it out on the Schuylkill river today in a grand final elimination test for the chance to go to the Olympics. Few could be found hereabouts hardy enough to pick either one as favorite.

The smooth rowing lads from the Golden Gate and the high stroking speedsters from New Haven crashed through to the final round by trimming Columbia and Princeton, respectively.

A courageous Harvard quartet has fought its way into the final for four-oared crews, trimming the San Diego, Calif., Rowing Club yesterday and if it can defeat the Bachelors Barge Club of Philadelphia it will go to Amsterdam with Yale or California.

Oarsmen in various other classes compete in this afternoon's finals.

Helen Wills Keeps
Her Tennis Crown

Wimbledon, Eng., July 7.—(AP)—Helen Wills, American tennis star, retained her championship in the women's singles at Wimbledon today, defeating Senorita Elia de Alvarez, brilliant young Spanish player, before a huge crowd which included the King and the Queen.

The Spanish girl made a wonderful effort in the second set and had a three-love lead before the champion steadied and ran out six straight games.

Senorita Alvarez, who has been suffering from an attack of laryngitis, seemed anything but a sick girl as she extended Miss Wills to a greater effort than she has been forced to exert before this year.

The challenger exhibited a faultless backhand and sent many low, raking shots skimming past the nets, until the middle of the second set when her game suffered a collapse.

FRANKLIN GROVE NEWS NOTES

Franklin Grove.—Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Kenney of Milwaukee were Friday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fair and family, George Hawbecker and daughter Miss Pauline were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Yeager near Lena.

Earl Orner of Wilmette was an over Sunday visitor at the home of his father E. O. Orner.

George Kastler of Eagle Grove, Ia. visited the past week at the home of his sister, Mrs. David Weigle.

Miss Nina Skinner of Oak Park is visiting at the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fish.

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet next Wednesday, July 11, with Mrs. Hannah Conlon at the Fred Hausen home in the south part of town. Attorney Martin V. Peterman of Oregon will address the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. George Emmert of Chicago were Saturday and Sunday visitors with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Emmert and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dierdorf.

At fourth of July picnic was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Sheap. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Durkes and son of Dixon; Mrs. Jennie Reigle, Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Senger and family, Misses Clara Lahman and Mae Conlon of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Dixon were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Senger.

The members of the Dysart family held their annual reunion at Lowell Park, Dixon, Friday, with a large number present to enjoy the delightful occasion. A delicious picnic dinner was served at noon and the beauties of the lovely park were enjoyed by all. The officers for the following year were elected as follows: President—Mrs. Drucie Dysart; Vice President—Horace Dysart; Secretary—Miss Gwendolyn Dysart. Those present from a distance were: J. W. Dysart, Milroy, Minn.; Mrs. Radcliff and three children of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Lex Crawford and daughter of Oregon.

Mrs. Clara Albertson of Everett, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Durant of Portland, Oregon; Editor and Mrs. H. L. Durant of Wheaton, Ill., were here Sunday. The Durants will be remembered by the older readers of this column as relatives of the late Blaisdell family who lived where Mrs. George Withey now lives.

Mrs. Agnes Kuhn of Milwaukee, Wis., is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Peter Mong.

Roseann and Bertie Cox of Rockford are visiting at the Vogt and Frosh homes.

The R. C. U. store has been making a decided improvement, by the addition of a number of shelves, which gives the proprietor, Earl Fish, more chance to display his goods.

"Betty" will surely be on the Camp Grounds, August 2nd.

Melvin Fisel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fisel underwent an operation Friday for the removal of tonsils at the Dixon hospital. He is doing nicely at this writing.

About seventy-five folks, young and old, enjoyed the Presbyterian Sunday school picnic at Lowell Park, Friday. A splendid time is reported by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gross were in Dixon Monday where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Nellie Gooch Sawyer. Mrs. Sawyer was an aunt of Mrs. Gross.

Misses Genet Hussey and Helen Louise Senger joined with the Ash-ton group who are attending the Presbyterian Young People's meeting in session at the Assembly park in Dixon. Miss Jessie Glover of Ashton is acting as chaperon.

Paul Smith of Chicago is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Smith.

Mrs. Ella Willard was a Dixon visitor over the week end.

It is with regret that we learn of E. O. E. Orner having another stroke Friday night. But his condition is much better than when he had his first stroke and his many friends are hoping to see him down town soon.

Word was received here yesterday morning that Fred Reinhart died very suddenly at his home in Ashton Tuesday night. For several months Mr. Reinhart had conducted a blacksmith shop in the east part of town, at this place.

Mark August 2nd as taken on your calendar, "Betty" will be on the camp grounds on that evening and you will want to see her.

Wednesday evening, July 11th, at the Camp Grounds the photoplay, "The Stream of Life" by Shields will be given. Mrs. James Conlon will preside at the piano for the score. This picture is one of the outstanding photoplays of the day. Its appeal to true and clean living, and to the ideals and values of real life is paramount. No admission charge.

but a silver offering will be taken. The tabernacle should be filled. Other attractions at the Institute next week are: Tuesday evening an address by Rev. Morgan Williams of Chicago, subject, "Hero or Slave—Which?" Thursday night, stunt night. Friday night address by Rev. A. T. Stephenson of Dixon, subject, "On the Road to Life." The people of this community should avail themselves of the splendid opportunity the Epworth Institute affords them in the very splendid speakers that they bring to this community.

The Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will meet next Thursday, July 12, at the home of Mrs. Charles Pyle. Sewing. This is the last meeting until August 16, when the society will meet with Misses Eunice and Lucy Gilbert for an all day session with a picnic dinner at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Dierdorf of Chicago are spending the week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dierdorf and with relatives in Lee Center.

New Equipment Here

The new fixtures and equipment for the post office arrived Friday and Saturday and Sunday the post office was moved from the Lincoln building to its new location in the Clark Robinson building, where it was opened to the patrons Monday morning.

The equipment is strictly modern. The partitions and mail boxes are of steel construction, each box having its own combination lock. The boxes are of three sizes, and are very convenient for the patrons as well as for the postal workers. The combination box is being met with much favor by the patrons as it enables one to secure their mail at anytime. A word here might not be out of place. A rumor has gone out that no mail can be had only by the patrons and they must use the box combination, which is not true. Anyone not able to operate the combination will most certainly receive their mail. Postmaster Spangler and his genial helper, Wayne Bates, is always ready to serve and please the public. Franklin Grove now has, without a doubt one of the best and most modern equipped post offices of its size in Illinois. Through the untiring efforts of Postmaster George L. Spangler was this brought about. Much credit should and is being given him and also the owner of the building, Charles Clark of Rockford, for putting the local postoffice on a basis with many of the postoffices in larger cities. As the days come and go the patrons will appreciate the convenience more and more, and feel to express their appreciation to both Postmaster Spangler and Mr. Clark.

L. L. Brewer of Chicago was a Saturday and Sunday visitor with home folks.

Mrs. Ida Arnold and son Wayne of Freeport, were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Buck.

PROFESSOR TRACES TWO REMOTE SWEDISH INVASIONS—Lund, Sweden.—(AP)—Fifteen thousand years ago Sweden was populated by a stately race of people whose principal means of sustenance was hunting. Prof. Otto Rydbeck of Lund University is convinced by studies on the migration of European races.

In 300 B. C., he says, the invasion of a new race took place. This people came from the west, probable from the British Isles. They were agriculturists. About 2200 B. C. a second Rydbeck believes, came from central and eastern Germany. It was an Indo-European people, expansive and aggressive, referred to in history as the "war axe race."

WONT BE STEPPED ON—Raleigh, N. C.—Charging that a railroad employee deliberately "stepped on his toes," W. D. Pool of Raleigh is suing the company for $50,000, alleging permanent injury.

Boy Scouts on Trip Across Continent

New York, July 6.—(AP)—Four Boy Scouts, all of Eagle rank, left today in their own covered wagon on a national highway safety demonstration tour which will carry them along the entire length of the Lincoln Highway, from the Holland Tubes under the Hudson, the starting point, to Golden Gate Park, San Francisco. The trip is expected to occupy five weeks.

Two members of the National Staff of the Boy Scouts will personally direct the tour, the aim of which is the installation of concrete markers at uniform distances along the Lincoln Highway.

The Lincoln Highway Association has appropriated several thousand dollars for the sign posts.

When the demonstration trip is ended a signal will be given and Boy Scouts along the highway, in a single day, will install the posts on 3,100 miles of road.

Those who started the westward trek today are Edward B. Pratt of Fairfield, Conn., Bernard Queneau of New Rochelle, N. Y.; Carl Zappie, Jr., of Brainerd, Minn., and Mark Hughes of Joliet, Ill. Each is fifteen years of age.

When you renew your subscription make your check payable to the Dixon Evening Telegraph.

FIRST SHOWING OF FOUR LINES OF NEW CARS

Irresistible feminine appeal has been added to masculine power in The President, The Commander, The Dictator and The Erskine.

Beauty—Here are delightful new colors from which to choose—Duskblu, Deauville Sand, Sable, Fawn, Antelope Tan and Dauphin Red—with just a dash of antique cunning in the finish of interior door panels and exterior body belt. Smartest of upholstery fabrics—broadcloth, mohair, whipcord and plush—in harmonizing shades.

Charm—Here are alluring new features to increase your pride of possession—handsome winged headlamps—flat radiator cap with the same wing motif—slender, graceful radiator design—all in glistening tar-nish-proof chromium—jaunty "polo cap"

visor—gleaming silvered hardware—colorful onyx top for gear lever and horn button.

Comfort—Seats of new design—full cushioned, form fitting lounges—steering wheel (adjustable to your particular needs) responds to your will rather than your muscles—ball-bearing spring shackles give riding ease hitherto unapproached in the most expensive cars—hydraulic shock absorbers—super-brakes which stop the car smoothly, gently in half the distance prescribed as standard.

These are the cars women have been hoping for—spirited, beautiful, safe, comfortable. Worth to hold every official stamina and speed record for fully equipped stock cars. Luxury and good taste at One-Price prices.

HEALTH & DIET ADVICE

By Dr. Frank McCoy
The Fast Way to Health

Dr. McCoy, Los Angeles specialist, will gladly answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Telegraph. Enclose stamped, addressed, large envelope for reply.

PTOMAINES POISONING

More people are killed from what they eat than from what they drink. While most deaths are caused by a very slow food poisoning which interferes with some part of the body, we sometimes read about people dying suddenly from something they have eaten, and it is important that you know what causes this and what to do if you or some one close to you are so stricken.

Those substances that are poisonous in themselves, for example some classes of mushrooms containing a poisonous liquid called muscarine, while sometimes mistaken for food, can scarcely be classed as ptomaines. Some types of fish contain poisonous substances even when fresh, and one can only guard against these by knowing the varieties or by depending upon reliable markets.

Far more frequently met with than these poisonous substances are cases of poisoning from food that has become contaminated by improper handling. This is sometimes caused by the presence of air and live bacteria in metal contained foods, or from specific organisms such as tubercular bacilli, trichinosis or typhoid. Animals or bees may be fed upon substances that make their products poisonous to man. Rye may be infected with a smut causing epidemics of ergotism. Potatoes have been known to produce poisoning from using wild sprouted potatoes or those which have lain in the sun after digging. Wild potatoes sometimes will do this also, producing jaundice. Peaches will sometimes cause "summer complaint" for some unknown reason, possibly in some cases because the seeds are also used.

The treatment for any of these food poisonings is to give a cathartic so as to freely wash out the stomach, and to give copious enemata. Then keep the patient active, exercising enough to produce sweating if possible. Sometimes the symptoms do not appear for several days, in which case it is advisable to give a cathartic and large quantities of water, with sweating and enemata.

The foregoing cases can not be classed as true ptomaine poisoning, since this is only caused by an alkaloid poison from putrefaction. The most poisonous of the ptomaines is mitylotolone, found in spoiling mussels. Another very poisonous ptomaine is produced by the bacillus botulinus, and produces what is known as botulism, first known as sausage poisoning. This organism has also been found in ham, and as it is very widely distributed in the soil, it may be present in many vegetable products, most likely those that are home canned. The poisons are not present in raw or freshly cooked foods. The presence of bubbles of gas and the softening appearance of the solid parts combined with a peculiar odor, should be sufficient excuse for discarding canned foods.

Sometimes milk and cheese become infected with a bacteria which causes intestinal irritation. In fish and mussels as well as in animals that have eaten poisonous substances, the liver is the most dangerous part to eat. Almost every type of meat, fish and fowl is liable to produce these poisons. It is interesting that the only exceptions to this is lamb and mutton. There is a type of poisoning causing paralysis of the legs from the use of the chick pea.

Sometimes good wholesome foods such as meat, eggs, milk, fish and strawberries will produce violent symptoms in certain individuals. This is an idiosyncrasy concerning some special protein. A person so affected can usually obtain immunity by starting with small quantities of the offending foods, insufficient to be unpleasant, and gradually increase the amount used.

MENUS FOR WEEK

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for

OUT OF SEASON

FELT HATS are a little out of season, but as a letter golf combination it's strictly up to the minute. You may be able to beat the par six solution on page 11.

F	E	L	T
H	A	T	S

THE RULES

- 1-The idea of letter golf is to change one word into another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
- 2-You can change only one letter at a time.
- 3-You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each pump. Plang words and abbreviations don't count.
- 4-The order of letters cannot be changed.

One solution is printed on page 11.

the week beginning Sunday, July 8, 1928.

Sunday

BREAKFAST—Coddled eggs, crisp bacon, waffles (browned through), stewed prunes.

LUNCH—Combination salad of tomatoes, celery and cucumbers, glass of sweet milk.

DINNER—Roast veal, wholewheat dressing, asparagus, "stuffed beet salad, fresh fig ice cream (see recipe June 16th).

Monday

BREAKFAST—Dish of wholewheat much with butter, milk or cream, stewed raisins.

LUNCH—Cantaloupe as desired.

DINNER—Salisbury steak, buttered peas, salad of shredded raw cabbage and parsley. Baked pear.

Tuesday

BREAKFAST—Poached eggs on re-toasted shredded Wheat Biscuit, Apple sauce.

LUNCH—Raw apples as desired.

DINNER—Roast mutton, cooked summer squash, salad of lettuce and tomatoes, Jello or Jell-well, with cream.

Wednesday

LUNCH—Dish of cooked string beans, salad of grated raw carrots.

DINNER—Broiled steak, spinach, celery and ripe olives, cup custard.

Thursday

BREAKFAST—French omelet, toasted Triscuit, stewed prunes.

LUNCH—As much as desired of any one kind of fresh acid fruit, such as plums, apricots or apples.

DINNER—Roast pork, baked egg plant, McCoy Salad (lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers), apple whip.

Friday

Breakfast—Baked eggs, Melba toast, stewed raisins.

Lunch—Oranges as desired.

Dinner—Baked white fish, stewed tomatoes, molded combination salad of chopped celery, cooked string beans and minced raw tomatoes, No dessert.

Saturday

Breakfast—Cantaloupe as desired.

Lunch—Steamed carrots with parsley, cooked spinach, shredded lettuce.

Dinner—Sliced cheese, cooked asparagus, cooked cucumbers, salad of grated raw carrots on lettuce, dish of berries with cream, no sugar.

*STUFFED BEET SALAD: Select beets of uniform size, scrub with a vegetable brush and boil until tender. Remove from the fire and place in cold water, when the skins will slip off very easily. Cut a slice of each beet from the stem end (to make it flat) and scoop out a generous portion from the center with a sharp knife. Fill with a mixture of finely chopped celery, cucumbers and tomatoes, (depending upon the size) on crisp lettuce. Do not discard the scooped out portions of the beets, but use on the following day. Cut into small pieces, re-heat, and serve with butter.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: J. L. writes: "My daughter age twelve years has a birthmark on her forehead, which is beginning to extend down into the corner of the eye. The doctors call it a cyst, something like a blood tumor. Is there anything that can be done to remove it without an operation?"

ANSWER: Birthmarks can usually be removed by the proper electrical treatment. I advise you to take your daughter to a skin specialist who understands the treatment which will be necessary.

QUESTION: Mrs. J. F. asks: "Of what fruits does the fruit diet consist, and how taken? Am troubled with sour stomach after eating. Would this diet relieve it?"

ANSWER: An exclusive fruit diet would be helpful in overcoming your sour stomach. Only one kind of fruit should be taken in any one day, but you may use as much of it as you desire. I have found the following fruits to be most helpful for this purpose: Apples, apricots, peaches, pears, grapes, oranges, grapefruit, berries, tomatoes, pineapple, and melons.

QUESTION: Mrs. L. M. writes: "Your articles are very good and I enjoy them very much. What is the cause of abscessed kidneys? What are the symptoms? How can the trouble be remedied?"

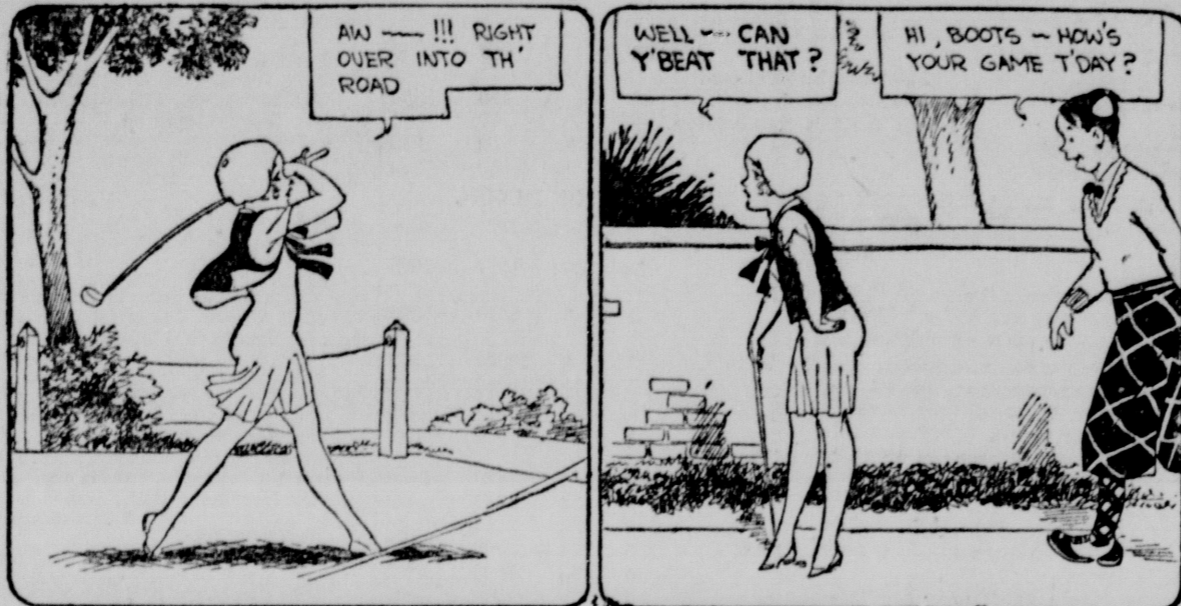

ANSWER: Such kidney trouble sometimes develops simply because the kidneys are overworked and are forced to eliminate poisons which should be thrown out through the intestines. Another cause is from the irritation of kidney stones. An abscessed kidney is always a serious trouble and each case must be properly diagnosed and treated accordingly. Don't expect the trouble to cure itself until you remove the cause and take the proper diet or use what other medical treatment is necessary.

Joliet Convict is Slain by Fellow

Joliet, Ill., July 6 —(AP)— Henry Gath, 55, received at Joliet penitentiary in 1921 from Kane County to serve a term of one to 20 years for burglary, was killed today by Seymour Slackell, received in 1919 from Knox County and serving a term of one to twenty years also. Gath was slain following an argument between the two prisoners in what is known as the "idle room" where prisoners not working were kept. Prison authorities said an inquest was to be held and would give out no further information immediately.

Now that house cleaning time has arrived you may find articles of furniture you wish to dispose of. A 50c ad in the Dixon Telegraph is bound to bring results.

What Averages of Leagues Show

NATIONAL LEAGUE

WW Immedesew be-Smrrft(maeJGD.
New York, July 7.—(AP)—With the Braves sinking in pieces all about him,
Rogers Hornsby retained the batting lead of the National League through the week ending on Independence Day, according to figures revealed today and including games to his mark of 391, representing 50 singles, 24 doubles, 2 triples and 14 home runs in 66 games.

In the National League home run race, Hack Wilson led on Wednesday evening with 19 to Jim Bottomley's 18 and Del Bissinette's 15.

As Hornsby held his lead among the batters, so did Sorrel-thatched Larry Benton cling to the top in the Pitching Table. He added two victories and two complete games to his string in the week ending Wednesday.

Benton now has won fourteen and lost three games in 150-2-3 innings of pitching without relief.

St. Louis players again are prominent in the list of individual champions. Bottomley leads in runs scored with 66, and istied for the top in doubles and triples. With Hornsby he shares the two base honors at twenty-four. His nine triples match the output of Walker of Cincinnati for first place.

Bissinette, continues to show the way to runs batted in. The Robin first baseman now can point to 68.
Following Hornsby in the batting table are: Grantham, Pittsburgh, 373;
Reese, New York, 365; Herman,
Brooklyn, 362; P. Wanner, Pittsburgh, 357; Callaghan, Cincinnati, 355; Bottomley, St. Louis, 352; Douthitt, St.
Louis, 351; Pinnich, Cincinnati, 344,
and Lindstrom, New York and Roettiger, St. Louis, 341.

Pittsburgh remained in the lead in team batting, again with an even average, .300, but the Cardinals held second place, just seven points behind.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Chicago, July 7.—(AP)—Apparently believing that the individual batting leadership of the American League should be in possession of the league leaders, Tony Lazzeri, New York Yankees' second baseman, has served notice on Leon Goslin of Washington that he is in danger of being dethroned as the swat king of the circuit.

And evidently Tony means business for during the week's play ending Wednesday the Yankees' hustling second sacker tacked 28 points onto his percentage column to end the week with an average of .371. Goslin slid down from an average of .425 to .406.

Gehrig, added 10 points for an average of .365, which was good for third place. Koenig, Yankee shortstop, cut loose with a barrage of hits that moved him into fourth position with .345.

The hitting of the individual players of the New York team was reflected in the team batting, which jumped two points to .308. The Yankees is the only team hitting above .300,
Cleveland ranking second with .291.

Strange as it may seem the Yankees are one of the poorest defensive teams in the circuit except Chicago and Detroit.

George Grant, that youthful Cleveland hurler who has rapidly caught onto the big league style of playing ball, added another game to his string of victories and continues to lead the moundmen with seven won and no defeats.

Mosquito's End is Scene in Dusting

Washington.—(AP)—Hope for eventual extermination of the malaria spreading mosquito and his less dangerous, but pesky brethren is seen by Public Health Service authorities in recent results of airplane dusting experiments in swampy areas near Bamberg, S. C.

These experiments have demonstrated the value of the airplane in spreading paris green over large marshes and swamps where drainage or other methods of eradication are impracticable. Navy planes with dusting equipment were flown over the South Carolina swamps, releasing the poisonous powder over the mosquitoes' breeding places. At least 50 percent of the larvae, the investigators estimated, were killed.

The effectiveness of paris green as a weapon against mosquitoes depends scientists working on the problem on several facts discovered by the
The larvae, deposited in stagnant water by the insects, come to the surface and turn on their sides to obtain food and air. It is therefore desirable that the poison used to kill them will float.

Paris green, which contains arsenic, will stay dry and remain on the surface of water at least two hours. In that time the larvae can be expected to come to the top at least once and are almost certain to receive a death dealing dose. The method is just as effective against salt marsh mosquitoes as against the malaria spreading variety, and by repeating the treatment over a period of years the authorities believe that a nearly 100 percent destruction can be attained.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning, June 27, at St.
Patrick's Catholic church, with burial in Oakwood.

Sid Terris Through
New York, July 7.—(AP)—It begins to look as though Sid Terris, once regarded as the uncrowned lightweight champion of the world, has reached the end of his fistic string.

For the second time in the last few months, he was the victim of a one round knockout last night. Ray Miller of Chicago turned the trick at the Coney Island Stadium, much to the will of all.

LOVE FOR TWO

NEA SERVICE INC. 1928 By NEA Service Inc.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
BETTY LOU WARD, on the eve of her wedding to ROD BRY-ER, feels a premonition of trouble when she receives a dangerous paper knife from LILA MARSH, who has turned Rod down because he is not wealthy.
But she courageously resolves to be as jealous of Rod's past love affair, since his future is in her keeping.

Betty Lou receives a second blow to her pride when she accidentally overhears one bride-maid ask another if she thought the bride had been second choice. The pain in her heart lingers until Rod whispers "My wife" with a world of adoration in his eyes.

They spend an ideal honeymoon
in a mountain resort, and Betty Lou almost forgets the shadow cast by the predatory ex-sweetheart until they return and find Lila acting as director in their apartment on the ground that she knows what Rod likes. Both the bride and her mother resent Lila's efforts to annoy, and MISS WARD advises Betty Lou to try to avoid meeting her in the future.

The newlyweds are given a surprise welcome-home party and other demands on their hospitality cause worry about making the budget balance. But Betty Lou forgets finances when Rod tells her they have been invited to dine with the FRASERS
—from New York.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER VII
TOM FRASER got up to greet Betty Lou and Rod, but Molly was no match for Lila. That sooner or later Lila would be able to report some occurrence, whether true or not, that would not bear the proof of falsehood on the face of it. Rod sometimes or another would be caught off his guard.

Betty Lou and Rod had never discussed Lila. Rod was not the sort to discuss his affairs with women and Betty Lou was too sporting to want him to.

She might have warned him that Lila was looking for a chance to boast that he hadn't entirely coasted toward her, but Betty Lou could not do that sort of thing. And there was always the chance that Lila was merely amusing herself in a cheap way.

However, Betty Lou was not passively waiting for Lila to scribble on the fair pages of her married life. She stood between Lila and her object whenever she could do so without cheapening herself.

She neither accepted invitations to Lila's home nor asked the girl to hers. There was dignity in that. But she always met Lila calmly, even when she came to the flat to see Rod. Lila admitted it was to see Rod and she always came in the evening.

Rod, ill at ease on these occasions, wondered what sort of a game Lila was playing. He was thankful it did not disturb Betty Lou.

SHE glanced over at them now.
One glance was sufficient. Lila was stunning in a purple lace dress.
Betty Lou knew it was the newest thing in town and that Lila's dad probably had had to plaster

another mortgage on his house to buy it for her.

Betty Lou felt drab by comparison. Beige might be smart, she told herself, but it certainly wasn't striking.

Molly had gone in for color, too.
Her low-cut dinner dress was made of rose crepe. A bit too formal for the occasion, but Molly liked to "impress the natives," as she said to Tom.

Rod was talking animatedly to Lila. She'd brought up the world series baseball games.

From all the smirks and slips of tongue she met so often in her home town.

She flashed toward Rod. "Did you hear what Tom said?" she cried excitedly. "Rod, he wants you to go to New York!"

Rod turned his head. Lila looked over, too, startled. "Go to New York?" he repeated in bewilderment. "Gosh, Tom, I never thought of it."

"Don't suppose you did." Tom returned dryly, "or you wouldn't be here. To be frank, I'd have asked you before only I hesitated over a fellow who's satisfied to stay on in a one-horse town." Almost unconsciously he puffed his chest as though to say, "look at me; I got out."

EVERYONE waited. "But you've got a smart little wife here." He dug playfully at Betty Lou's ribs. "Ought to give her a chance
—look at Molly—see what Fifth Avenue did for her."

They all looked, of course. Molly was equal to the appraisal. She sat like her idea of a queen. A colorful idea. Lila smiled and Betty Lou felt drabber than ever. She knew Tom hadn't meant to disparage her, but it could be taken that way. Lila surely wouldn't miss it.

Too bad Betty Lou couldn't have seen herself, for there was nothing approaching drabness about her. The thick, rich hair was knotted beautifully on the nape
of her neck and her eyes were shining like jewels. There wasn't another girl in Wayville with a complexion to match hers. With summer tan upon it there was but one thing to liken it to. The velvety skin of a luscious, ripe peach.

In Tom's estimation, however, she wasn't up to Molly. Molly, with her tight marcel, her thin, shaved eyebrows and precisely rouged lips, was Tom's ideal of smartness.
Molly wore an abundance of jewelry, too. That meant a lot to Tom.

"Well, what do you say?" he demanded as Rod hesitated to answer.

SMITH ASKS REED COOPERATION FOR CAMPAIGN BATTLE

Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt Answers Mrs. Clem Shaver's Attack

New York, July 7.—(AP)—Governor Smith has called on his chief opponent for the democratic presidential nomination, Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, for aid in the coming campaign.

He wrote Senator Reed an invitation to come to Albany as his guest and confer on the campaign. The letter was made public by Smith headquarters here.

"Now that the storm of battle has cleared away," the Governor wrote "I hope that I can prevail upon you to spend a night at Albany at the executive mansion and confer with me on the conduct and issues of the campaign in which we are engaged together. Please let me know what your plans are for the near future so that we can perhaps get together soon."

Reed Offers Aid

The Missouri senator, who waged a strenuous campaign for the nomination, only to be swept aside by the Smith landslide at Houston, publicly offered his aid to Governor Smith immediately after the latter's nomination. It was believed the Governor would ask Mr. Reed, who is a forceful speaker, to take the stump for him in the middle western states where the Senator is best known.

Answers Mrs. Shaver

The attack on Governor Smith made at Washington by Mrs. Clem L. Shaver, wife of the democratic national chairman and leader of the Women's Democratic Law Enforcement League, a dry organizer, drew instant response here from Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"Mrs. Shaver's attack is well in line with the extreme and frequently untruthful statements made by the little group of women represented by the Women's Democratic Law Enforcement Committee of Baltimore," said the wife of the man who nominated Governor Smith at Houston. She said she believed Mrs. Shaver had been "misled" by a group that considered enforcement of the Volstead law "more important than truth or fair play."

LEWIS AND CLARK SITE

MARKED BY PLAYGROUND

Bismarck, N. D.—(AP)—Shouts of youngsters at play will echo over Wildwood lake and the valleys nearby, historic as the winter camp site of Lewis and Clark on their first trip to the Pacific Ocean.

To mark permanently the spot where the two explorers spent their first winter in the wilds of this region, a public playground has been established on the shores of the lake.

The lake, located 33 miles north of Bismarck, was a favorite stopping place for early traders and explorers.

The spot still abounds with wild life.
